BLANK, N/A OR NONE? FINISHING THE SCHEDULE

CAN YOU LEAVE A BOX EMPTY?

On these notes: don't leave a box empty once the job is finished. Write N/A where it doesn't apply (a water bond where there's no metal water pipe, say), and None where the answer is "there aren't any" (departures). An empty box can be read as "forgot". N/A shows you looked. Some electricians leave boxes blank by habit. Don't pick that up.

Keep a copy of everything you issue. The paperwork is the only evidence you were there, what you found, and what you did.

Free section from Sparky Study Notes. The full Level 3 notes, 1,463 practice questions and the video lessons: sparkystudynotes.co.uk